Dear parents and carers,

We are often asked for advice on how to support children's learning at home so I am delighted to be able to recommend a set of resources that contain practical advice for parents and carers on supporting children of all school ages.

Written by Mike Gershon, an educational expert who has written more than 40 books on learning, the resources consist of a series of short videos and accompanying guides about fostering learning at home that you can access at your own convenience.

The resources are available for FREE. The standard cost of £144 will be removed from the course access form when you enter:

at step 4.

The linked 'How to Access the Course' guide takes you through the quick and easy process that will only take a minute to complete.

Kind regards,

Mrs Gill Roberts
